Thank You For A Fun & Successful IACP 2010

Thank you for spending time with us at IACP in Orlando. We enjoyed catching up on things, meeting new friends, and sharing advancements in our ALPR and related technologies. Your stories and feedback provide invaluable insight as to how we can better aid your public safety missions while keeping law officers safe. Let's continue the conversations in the months to come so we're aware of your specific needs that can be addressed with the MPH-900®. As always, Your Mission...Is Our Mission.

—Mark Windover, President & CEO, ELSAG

Welcome, 1,000th Partner Agency! Danville, Virginia Police Department

ELSAG welcomes their 1,000th customer, Danville Police Department in Virginia. Mark Windover, President and CEO of ELSAG, honored Chief of Police, Phillip Broadfoot during the recent 2010 IACP Conference with the company's esteemed Golden Camera Award. "We are excited about being the 1,000th customer of ELSAG North America and we anticipate putting the MPH-900® technology to great use," said Chief Broadfoot.

DIRECT From The POLICE Blotter

Unlicensed Driver – Police arrested Damian A. Wallace, 24, of Mahopac, after police used their ELSAG mobile license plate reader on Crompond Road at approximately 10:11 p.m. on Sept. 19. Allegedly Wallace was driving his 1999 Mercedes Benz with a suspended registration, without a license. In addition, the vehicle was not insured. The defendant was issued a traffic summons and was released on $200 bail. He is due in court on October 19.

Word On The Street

"The ELSAG license plate equipment has really been a force multiplier for us. We use it, not only to find stolen vehicles, but use it quite successfully for major assignments, such as gubernatorial inaugurations and large events where we can deploy the equipment to collect data. It certainly has been a plus in our toolbox. We're happy to be a customer!"

—Colonel Steve Flaherty,
Virginia State Police
